Suit Thrown Out of Court.

W. H. Vanderbilt's Contract for Increasing Legacies Not Proven.

Justice Patterson, in Supreme Court, to-day tamiased the suit of Harry Allen against the Vanderbilta for $800,000 and interest. larry Allen is the son of the late Mrs. Emelinda Allen, who was the eldest of old Commodore Vanderbilt's ten children. When the Commodore died, in January,

1877, he left a young widow and ten children His will made specific bequests to his widow and legacies ranging from $300,000 to $500,000 to each of pine of the children, approvating $4,500,000, and the remainder of his $125,000, -

600 he left to William H. Vanderbilt. Ethelinda got $400,000, but contested the will. A settlement was arrived at, Channes M. Depew agreeing for William H. Vander-bilt to give to each of the others an additional som equal to his or her bequest.

Afterwards Ethelinds, wife of D. B. Allen, still unsatisfied, demanded and was given enough to make her fortune a round $1,000,000, which was what Cornellus J. Vanderbilt had

William H. Vanderbilt died and left his millns to his children. Mrs. Allen died. The sult was brought by Harry Allen, her son, to recover on an alleged contract by which Willtam H. Vanderbut agreed to give to Mrs. Allen might in future give to her brother, Cornelius J., or any of her sisters—Mrs. James Cross (Jane); Mrs. William K. Thorne (Euna); Mrs. N. R. La Bau (Alleia): Mrs. Horsoe F. Clarke (Maria Louisa); Mrs. Catharine La Feet, Mrs. George Oegood (Eliza), and Mrs. Daniel Tor-rance, all of whom save Maria, Euna and Mrs. Torrance are now dead.

Mr. Allen claimed that William H. Vanderbilt did give an additional $280,000 to Cornelius J., but never made up that sum to his mother, and the suit was brought against Cornelius William K., Frederick W. and George W. Vanderbilt, as executors of the estate of William H. Vanderbilt. Like himself, they are grandchildren of the Commodore.

Mr. Allen, backed by ex-Judge Houston, produced as witness ex-Judge and ex-Dock Commissioner James Matthews, once counse for Mrs. Alien. He remembered the agreement of William H. to double the legacies of his prother and sisters, but had no remembrance of any other agreement to pay Mrs. Allen any Harry Allen took the stand to testify that he Depew Has Grandson Harry Allen's Other Lumber Dealers Will Keep Their Anson Finds That Gotham's Giants Yards Closed Till Monday.

Many Indications of a Speedy Collapse of the Lumber Embargo.

The grand rush of lumber dealers from under the binding character of the Lumber Trade Association's Agreement that was expected to take place in consequence of Chair man Decker opening his yard for business this morning, did not occur.

Beveral of the dealers who have signed the agreement have been threatening for days to open their yards and resume business if the trouble between the dealers and the Board of Walking Delegates was not ended in short

The fact that the yards have been closed for nearly two weeks is a heavy strain upon those dealers who thought that one week of embarge would be enough to frighten the delegates into accepting almost any proposition that could be made to them. In this they have been sorely disappointed.

Two attempts have been made to settle the trouble, and both have fallen anort of it, because the Association has refused to secept the onditions agreed to by Chairman Decker and the Walking Delegates.

The delegates are determined not to give in on a basis of unconditional surrender. Many of the dealers have watched the fight up to the present time with disgust.

with all the old-time vigor. For several days rumors of such moves have reached the ears of the Advisory Committee of the Lumber Trade Association, Yesterday fternoon a committee noted for persuasive characteristics was despatched to strengthen the weak places along the line. This committee is composed of Mr. Adams, of Willson, Adams & Co., and Mr. Williams, of L T. Williams & Co.

Their work was very effective. Norton Christman had promised lumber to-day and were bound to deliver it. They were sllowed to send out a few loads, but the gates were slammed shut after them, and the embargo was put in force again.

Mr. Norton said: "The Association was very auxious that our yard should remain closed. They claim that the fight has changed from defense of Bucki to direct war against the labor unions. We will remain closed now until Monday, and will watch proceedings with Samuel Sinclair, once publisher of the great interest. What we will do after that I cannot say. "
